Dr. Noor Fazamimah Mohd Ariffin is a Senior Lecturer at the Department of Landscape Architecture, Faculty of Design and Architecture, Universiti Putra Malaysia. She obtained both her Bachelor degree in Landscape Architecture and Masters degree in Urban and Regional Planning from the Universiti Teknologi Malaysia. She received her PhD from Universiti Malaya in Conservation Studies. She joined the Department of Landscape Architecture, Universiti Putra Malaysia as a Tutor in 2002 and as a Senior Lecturer in 2015. She was a Landscape Architect at Hijauan Reka Consult, Kajang, Selangor and NR Consultants, Bandar Sri Subang, Selangor.

Noor Fazamimah is currently a fellow researcher in the Warisan Alam Budaya dan Rekabentuk Islam (WARIS) research group. The group is designed to stimulate research and knowledge management of Malaysian culture and heritage. The aim is to systematically document, analyze and disseminate the intrinsic quality of the authentic local culture and fragile heritage as a lesson to be reconstructed in the modern and contemporary culture and community. Noor Fazamimah has been part of the organizing committee of the International Conference on Science, Engineering, Built Environment and Social Science (ICSEBS) in collaboration with other institutions from Malaysia and Indonesia. She has been appointed as a reviewer of national and international conference and journal papers.

Her expertise is on the conservation of cultural heritage, cultural tourism, and cultural heritage assessment. She has secured research grants related to urban heritage trees conservation and value assessment. She has published some refereed publications on her research areas. Together with her students, Noor Fazamimah has been involved in community projects, such as problem-solving and technology-infused activities by applying the students' skills and knowledge in landscape design to help the community in solving current environmental issue through design.
